

I believe most of the government agencies have enough problems without sticking their nose into a very good law that a state has.